Asia Week 2026: The History and Future of Collaboration Between Thailand and Kyushu University: Utilization of Biological Resources and Human Health

Program

09:00~09:02	Opening Remarks
09:05~09:35	Special Lecture 'Microbiology in Everyday Life' Dr. Onanong Pringsulaka, Faculty of Science, Srinakharinwirot University
09:35~10:00	From Research Exchange to Future Innovation: Strengthening Kyushu University–NSTDA Collaboration Dr. Sirinthorn Sunthornthummas, NSTDA
10:00~10:05	Break
10:05~10:35	Special Lecture Dr. Nalena Praphairaksit (Dean, Facuity of Science, Srinakharinwirot University)
10:35~10:55	Transcriptome-based qPCR Analysis of Durian Defense Response Gene Expression during Pythium sp. Infection Ms. Jomsuda Tasanont
10:55~11:00	Break
11:00~11:20	International Academic Experiences and Current Research Progress Ms. Vann Sreymao, Kyushu University
11:20~11:40	"Why Do People Develop Allergies to Shrimp and Other Crustaceans?" Ms. Panyarat Laurchan
11:40~12:00	Joint Research on Microbial Resources in Thailand and Japan Dr. Katsumi Doi, Kyushu University
12:00~12:05	Closing Remarks

Ito Guest House
(Kyushu University Ito Compus)

- Date: November 4, 2026 (Wednesday), 09:00-12:05 LST
- Venue: Multipurpose Hall, Ito Guest House, Kyushu University
- Hybrid: Online + On-Site
- Organizer: Katsumi Doi
- Language: English

Kyushu University Asia week