

Agritourism in East Asian Countries

■ DATE: Nov 7, 2023 (Tue) 10:00~12:00 (JST)

■ VENUE: Online (Zoom)

■ REGISTRATION: Free. Register through the link or QR code

https://temdec-med-kyushu-u-ac-jp.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_VdmUxK13QVeIue1Rquf9Rg

■ LANGUAGE: English

■ OUTLINES:

Agritourism in Western countries is considered an additional source of income for farmers. However, its significance in East Asian countries like Japan, South Korea, and Taiwan, where aging farmers are unable to sustain agriculture and young people are not interested in farming, is even greater. Against this backdrop, this seminar aims to discuss how Japan has developed agritourism and explore the potential challenges and opportunities for agritourism in the contexts of Korea and Mongolia.

Introduction (10:00~10:10)

Kumar Bhatta

Assistant Professor, Kyushu University, Japan

History to present: Agritourism in Japan (10:00~10:35)

Yasuo Ohe

Professor, Tokyo University of University, Japan

Regional initiatives for agritourism development (10:35~10:55)

Daisuke Kunii

Policy Research Institute, Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries, Japan

Possibilities of developing the lifestyle of nomadic herders as agritourism in Mongolia (10:55~11:15)

Givaamaa Nyambuu

Freelancer, Mongolia

Agritourism policy and trends in South Korea (11:15~11:35)

Mehdi Rezaei

Researcher, Konkuk University, South Korea

